The Best Homeware Gifts to Give at Christmas

With Christmas literally knocking on our door this festive season we're all striving to create a home we love, filled with stylish accessories and also give gifts we'd love to receive!

As an Eco Interior Stylist my first port of call is always to look for quirky, unusual but functional pieces for the home. If you're a bit crafty, get making! One of the great pleasures about receiving a hand made gift is knowing that thought and time went into making it; the same goes for any items you make or re-invent to accessorise your home this Christmas.

If you're feeling a little crafty.....the hallway is the perfect place to set the festive mood! To dress the banister in your home, why not pick up some faux foliage and wrap it along the banister adding silver baubles and dotting it with battery operated lights; use florist wire to secure. For those dark corners of the home bring your garden Hurricane lanterns indoors and fill with Christmas lights!

Anjo Home

A great addition to any festive home this Christmas is this irresistibly cute deer decoration made from rattan. It features a fur collar and a miniature red bauble. Place it on a hearth to create a wonderful festive fire surround or by the door to welcome your guests. Measuring 46 x 30 x 10cm this handsome fella will add some class to your home.

Also found at Anjo Home, send a loved one the sweet festive fragrance of cranberry in the form of their Cranberry Candle in a tin, a delightful gift to receive.

Jacqui Joseph

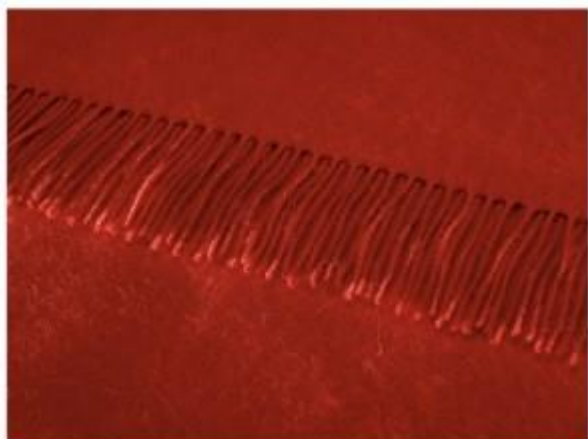

Lighting is crucial in any home, but especially at this time of the year. Create a haven of warmth and tranquility with Jacqui Joseph's made in the UK exclusive Artist Collection lampshades. Using artwork by some of the most exciting British Artists, their collection has a shade to suit any room scheme and make the most wonderful gift idea.

£65.00-£75.00

Add eye-catching and contemporary style to any room in your home with this microfibre suede cushion from the exclusive Artist Collection at Jacqui Joseph Designs, a stunning gift idea for any home. Also available in white.

Rusdens

If you're on the hunt for the perfect gift for home lovers head over to Rusdens. Their online store is filled with the most beautiful candles, candleholders, stunning picture frames, statement mirrors, luxurious throws and stylish home accessory pieces. With a history spanning over 50 years you'll find something for even the trickiest person to buy for!

Snuggle up with this luxurious Alpaca Throw from Rusdens

Alpaca Throw £180.00

Abamaxa

Let's not forget the men! Why not gift them this soft leather Charlie Key Case – it's made in the UK and available in a range of striking colours.

This ultra stylish key case has room for six keys and comes with an inside zip and back zip compartment. It even has a slip area inside to store a note. Shown here in red, it also comes in deep brown and black and comes gift boxed.

And so to the dreaded task of wrapping! You can get Christmas all wrapped up with the help of Jane Means. I call her the 'Wrap Queen'! Jane is a lovely lady and truly amazing at wrapping even the most difficult items. She's filled with great ideas for the home as well as gifts. We know that the look of a beautifully wrapped gift nestled under the tree is so inviting and when it comes to presenting your presents to loved ones, it's always good to know that with a little effort our gifts become extra special! After presenting a show with Jane Means last Christmas, my pressies looked amazing and hopefully will do again this year! An essential piece of equipment to have according to Jane is.....double sided tape, it helps to make your gifts look professional, with minimal fuss. Happy Wrapping!
